

Call for Participation

We invite you to join us in 15th International Conference on Software Engineering and Applications (SEA 2026)

This conference provides a premier global forum for researchers, practitioners, and industry experts to share advances in the theory, methodology, and practice of modern software engineering. As software systems grow in scale, intelligence, and complexity, SEA 2026 aims to foster deep discussions and new collaborations that push the boundaries of how software is designed, built, deployed, and evolved.

Highlights of SEA 2026 includes:

- 16th International Conference on Computer Science, Engineering and Applications (CCSEA 2026)
- 15th International Conference on Embedded Systems and Applications (EMSA 2026)
- 15th International Conference on Cloud Computing: Services and Architecture (CLOUD 2026)
- 7th International Conference on Big Data and Machine Learning (BDML 2026)
- 12th International Conference on Signal and Image Processing (SIPRO 2026)
- 7th International Conference on Natural Language Computing and AI (NLCAI 2026)
- 12th International Conference on Networks & Communications (NCOM 2026)
- 14th International Conference on Data Mining & Knowledge Management Process (DKMP 2026)
- 12th International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Applications (AIFU 2026)
- 7th International Conference on Block chain and Internet of Things Applications (BIoT 2026)
